Book Chat #4

DISCUSS: Purple Hibiscus as a Coming of Age Story

Adichie showcases Kambili's internal conflict of making sense of her identity with subtlety. Through Kambili's first person narration, we have full access to her perception of the world, but her limited self-awareness means that we are seeing a fractured view of reality.

For example, we could argue that Kambili is not even aware that her identity is in crisis.

- What are Kambili's internal conflict(s) and how she deals with them (or it)? Why is she not aware of these conflicts? Explain why this makes Purple Hibiscus a Coming of Age story

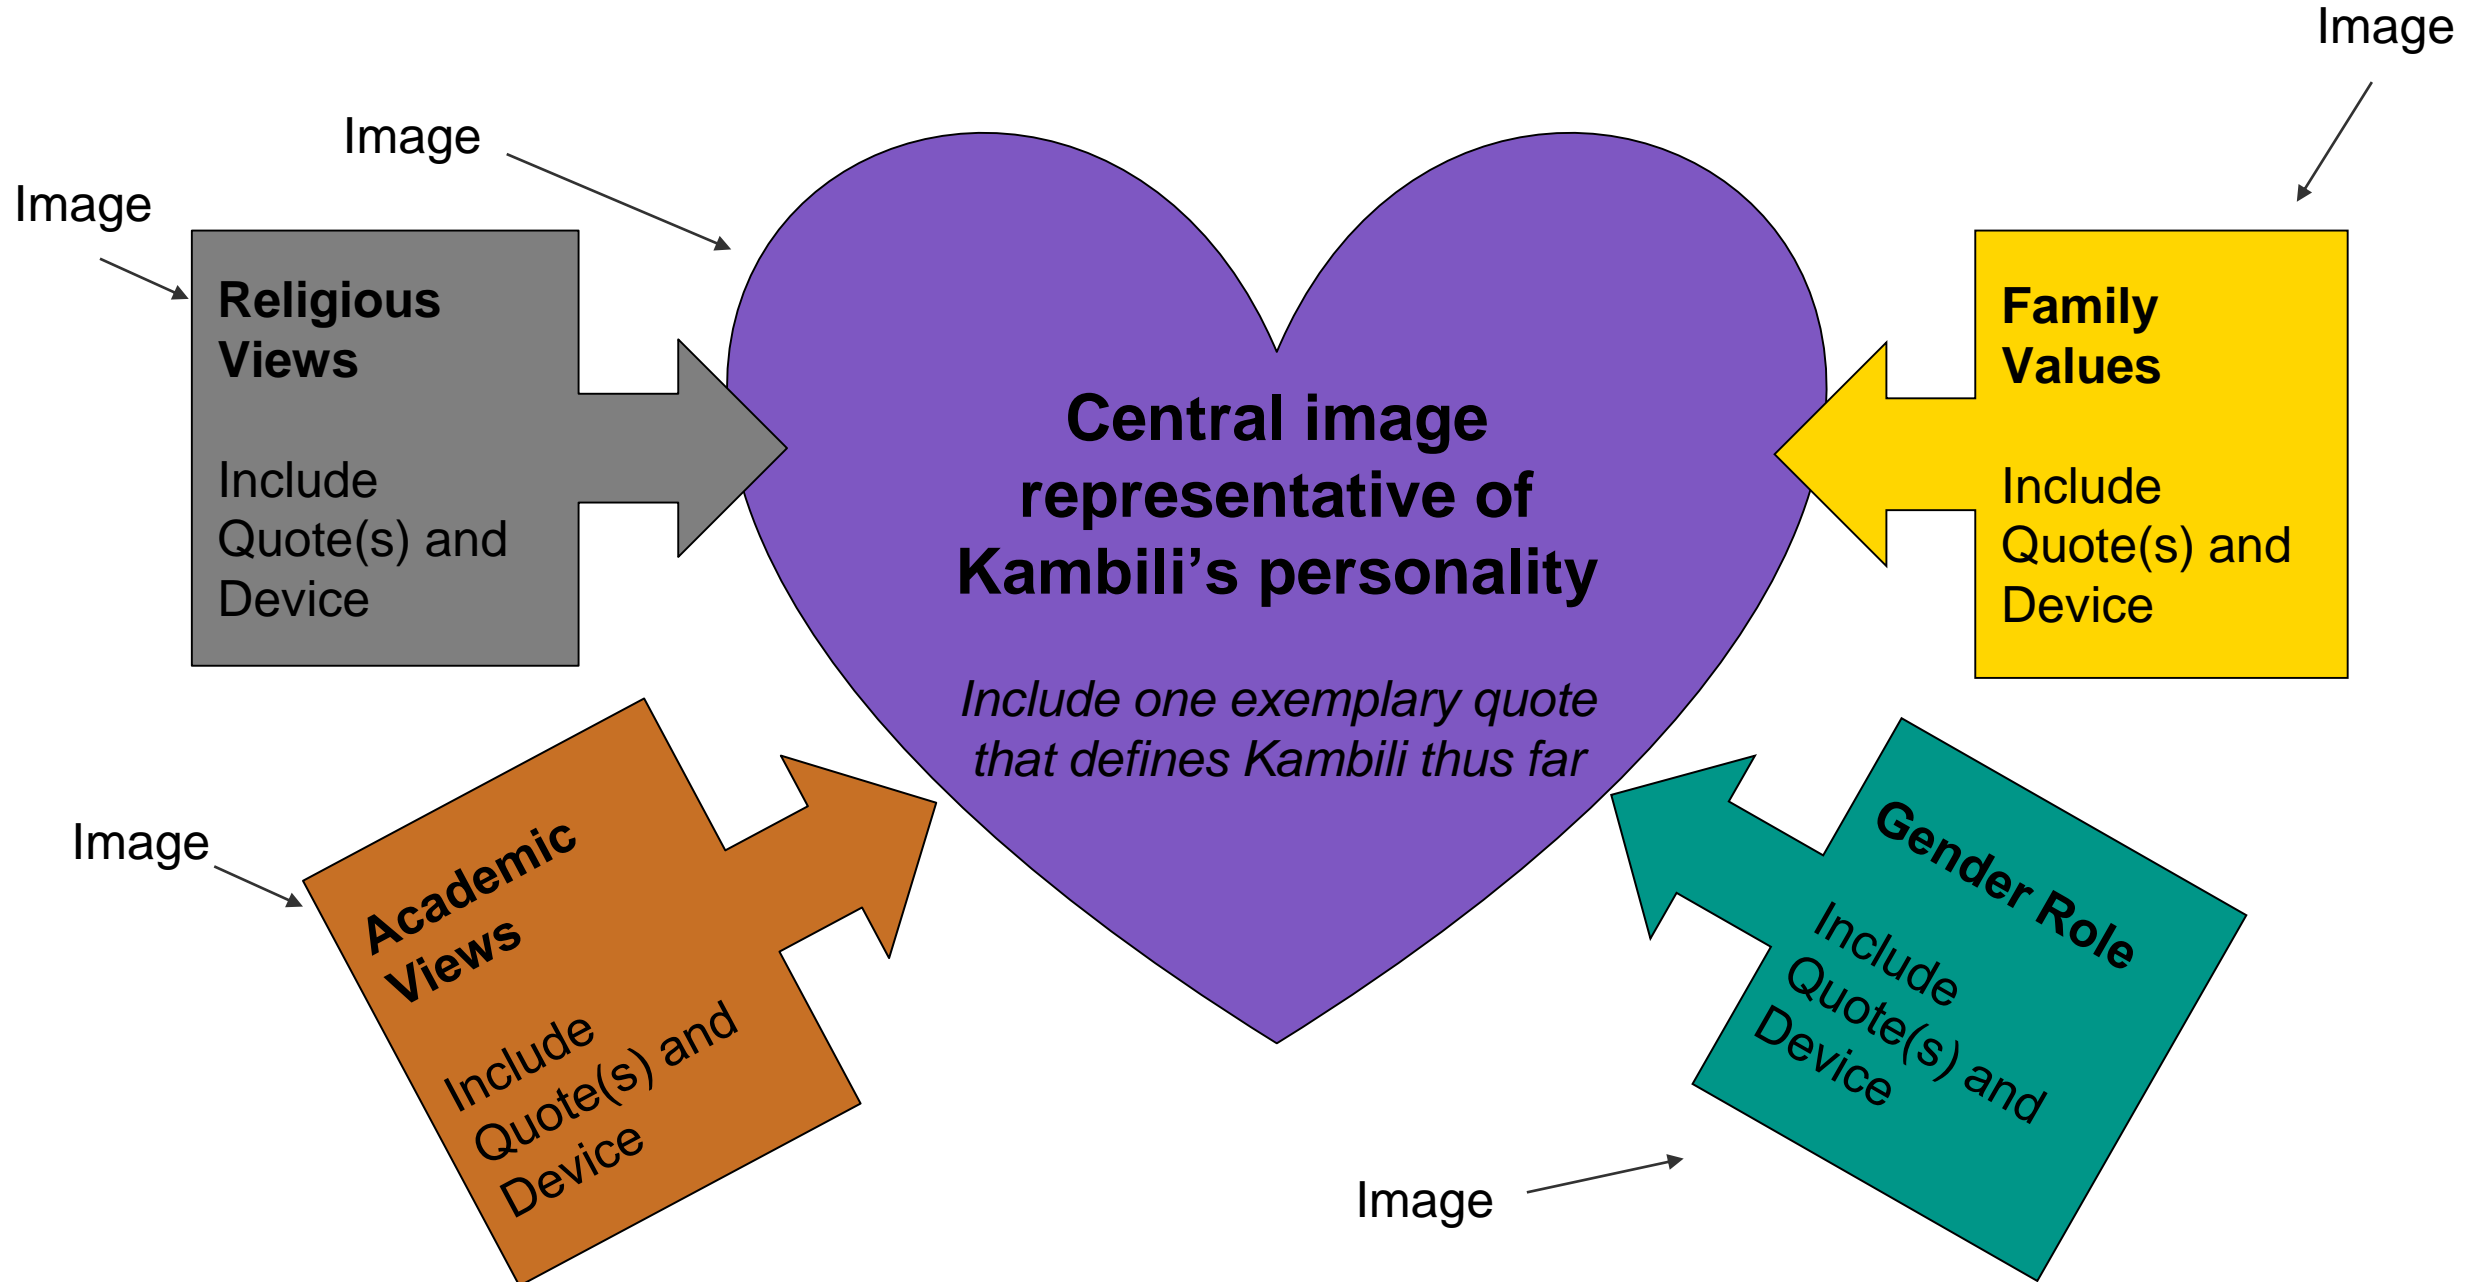

Identity Crisis Slide

With your teams, you are going to create a visual representation of how Adichie communicates Kambili's identity crisis.

The slide must be creative. It must include:

- An overall image that represents Kambili's personality.
- Images for each influencer.
- Influencers: Religious views, academic views, family values, and her gender role—with a specific device used in the quote you choose for each, a quote that represents each influencer, and picture that represents each (see next slide).
- If these influences don't fit, feel free to use others!
